Bromley United Reformed Church

In faith we proclaim
Jesus as Lord.

From faith our mission is to tell of God's love and to share it with other people in actions as well as words.

Whoever you are and wherever you are on life's journey, you are welcome here.

What does this mean?

As individuals we have been called into a community of faith with one another through the grace of God, united with other Christians in the sacraments of Baptism and Holy Communion.

We are joined to one another in a community in which there is room for security and encouragement, comfort and challenge. We experience the love of God in the person of Jesus of Nazareth and are impelled to reach out to others to tell of and share that love.

Following the example of Jesus we see a particular need to work individually and with others for peace and justice in the world. We recognise that Jesus was on the side of those who were treated unjustly - the poor, the vulnerable, the oppressed, the stranger, those stigmatised by society. We believe we must follow his example.

We seek the will of God in the scriptures which we believe still speak to humankind today. We continually search for ways to equip one another to carry out God's will for each of us.

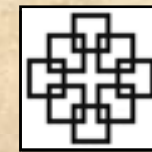

We share a faith that is passed on, formed and practiced, that is deepened by the experiences of life, by struggle and by pain as well as by joy and by happiness; faith that is alive in the very small and the very big questions of life.

Whilst recognising what was valuable in our past, we constantly look to new and effective forms of ministry which can meet the needs of people in the world in which we live now. In looking to the future we can build on the strengths of the present:

- a desire to serve God in worship, prayer, study and action
- a strong sense of community
- a kindness and pastoral concern for each other
- a faith community that seeks to be inclusive of all
- a determination to welcome and support the poor, the vulnerable, the oppressed, the stranger, the stigmatised in our community
- a religious heritage of freedom and tolerance

- a commitment to working together with other churches in Bromley
- a commitment to work with all people of good will of any faith or none to meet the needs of the people in the world in which we live
- a commitment to being part of the local community which is resulting in strong and growing community relationships
- the work of the 5000 Project with the adult homeless in our community
- the opportunity and challenges of our location

We see the need to constantly move forward, to review and to change so that we can fulfil God's mission for us.

Whoever you are and wherever you are on life's journey, you are welcome here.
